The question of strike benefits for employes of the National Tube Company who are not members of the Amalgamated Association has just been the subject of discussion. These men are nearly all members of trades unions affiliated with the Federation of Labor, and it appears went out in without the formality provided by the Federation constitution. For this reason no benefits could be paid them by their own organization. Several meetings of tube workers have been held recently to consider the question, and committees were appointed to ascertain their standing with He Was Arraigned at Nogales Yes the Amalgamated Association. It is understood that the strikers' officials assured them that they would not be overlooked in the hour of need. Secretary Williams received a check from the flint glass workers to-day for $3,000, besides several other large donations. President Shaffer officially denied several stories printed in the papers to-day. He said there was no truth that the Amalgamated Association was making efforts to effect a settlement of the strike by trying to force the United States Steel Corporation into arbitration through the courts and that Hon. John K. Byrne, a small stockholder and former labor leader, had been requested to join in a petition asking for the appointment of a board. This statement was also denied by Mr. Byrne in a dispatch to the Associated Press this

The report that the Amalgamated lodges were voting on a peace proposition was also denied by Mr. Shaffer, who said: "There has been no vote of any kind taken by us. The lodges may have taken votes on their own account, but none has been ordered since the strike started and no vote has been taken by the executive

SIMON BURNS'S PROPOSITION.

President Schwab's Rejection of Sorely Disappointed Him.

President Simon Burns, of L. A. 300, the glass blowers' organization, was in the city yesterday attending the conference of the three window-glass combinations. Last night he said of the arbitration proposition he made to the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and the United States Sicel Company, which was rejected by President Schwab; "I think Mr. Schwab made a mistake. My proposition was only a suggestion to both sides to arbitrate their differences. I think it was fair in every particular and could injure neither side if they are disposed to do the right thing. Mr. Schwab says there is | Special to the Indianapolis Journal. nothing to arbitrate. In that case the steel trust would not be affected by submitting the whole matter to arbitration. There is no reason why they should not come together and settle their differences. It is to the best interests of both sides. Both claim that they are in the right, in which event they ought not to hesitate to leave the matter with an im-

"If there is a misunderstanding an arbitration board would clear it up. That is what such a board is for. No doubt many people do not understand the meaning of strike, what unionism means to the Amalgamated Association and the steel trust. A board would set this matter right before the public which has a right to know, since the strike affects so many industries and threatens to paralyze many branches of business. Both labor and capital make mistakes. Sometimes one side is responsible, sometimes the other, and in some instances, both. Taking these phases of the question into consideration I cannot see why either side should refuse to ar-

"President Shaffer gladly accepted the I offered to bring about a ettlement and was willing to let the whole matter rest with a board of arbitration composed of wholly disinterested and fairminded men. Mr. Schwab rejected the proposition, I do not know why. I think that if he is inclined to arbitrate he should have some counter proposition or suggested that he was willing to arbitrate with certain conditions in my proposition that did not meet his approval eliminated. I made the suggestion in my proposition that if it seemed unfair in any way for efther side, to suggest such changes as would be satisfactory. Mr. Shaffer was willing to accept the whole proposition. If it did not meet with the approval of Mr. Schwab I think it would have been no more than right for him to have made some suggestion at least, along the line of arbitration. Asked if he would make another proposition to both sides, as was reported, he said: "I cannot tell just what I shall do | ishment at the conclusion of his trial at in the matter. I am disappointed in this Winchester to-day. The jury found the bringing the Amalgamated Association and the trust officials together, and since it has failed. I cannot say what I shall do."

McLEAN'S LIVER AND KIDNEY BALM cures Kidneys and Liver, and tones the stomach. During the one-half century of its use it has cured hopeless cases. If you are one of the many who have become disheartened by repeated failures with other remedies, don't despair. A bottle ($1.00) will convince you that Health and Happiness can still be yours. It's purely vegetable. It's absolutely safe. At your druggist's. Made by The Dr. J. H. McLean Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo.
